

Notice on Confidentiality

Dear User,

To maintain full transparency, we want to outline the measures we take to handle the information and data you share with us. We are committed to the following:

- Upon your request or after the completion of archival services and any related processes, as well as upon the expiration of any applicable retention periods, we will delete your data to the extent feasible and legally permissible.

We would also like to highlight the following considerations:

- Our platform, services, and processes are not specifically designed to support enhanced levels of confidentiality.

In addition to the above measures, Webarchive.io implements industry-standard security protocols to protect your data and regularly reviews its practices to align with legal and technological advancements. For any specific concerns or additional requirements, we encourage open communication to address your needs effectively.

We appreciate your trust in Webarchive.io and look forward to supporting your data management needs under the conditions outlined here.

Best regards,

Marcus Gothe CEO Webarchive.io
